NEW STAND FOR WITNESSES.

Lean Witnesses Only May Enter-

Provision for the Stout Ones. Policemen and witnesses attending the session of the United States branch of the Police Court recently have noticed that workmen are employed in the erection of a new witness stand in the hall of justice. Although it is an ordinary thing to see workmen engaged in making repairs about the court building the fact of a new witness stand being in course of erection caused considerable comment from members of the police department, especially from those who are unusually stout and broad in build. It was noticed that the new stand is very narrow and one observer remarked, "there's not enough room there for stout people," and in order to prove the truthfulness of his statement, notwithstanding the fact that none of those present took exception to his assertion, a rule was secured and a measurement was taken. It was found that the new stand is only a width. A Star reporter, who made an inquiry, learned that Judge Kimball had the stand learned that Judge Kimball had the stand constructed for the purpose of bringing witnesses to a point nearer to him when they are giving testimony. They will, however, be further away from the jury when a case requiring a jury is heard, and at all times some distance further away from the table used by attorneys.

The new stand is directly beside the old one, they being separated only by a railing. It was at first planned to close the old stand permanently, but when it was discovered that the new stand is so narrow and that some persons will be unable to enter it, the decision was reached to run a sliding bar across it in order that it may trifle over twenty inches wide, while the stand previously in use is thirty inches in sliding bar across it in order that it may be removed when a person of large proporbe removed when a person of large proportions is called upon to testify.

To United States Deputy Marshal Henry Johnson, who has charge of witnesses while they are testifying, will fall the task of deciding whether or not they shall be given a place on the stand for lean people, or on the one for those of large avoirdupois. No provision has been made to supply him with a tape measure out of government funds in order that he may take accurate measure of the anatomy of witnesses as a means of learning which one of the two stands he shall assign them to. It is a fact, however, that a number of Major Sylvester's men are too broad at the belt to use the new stand.

WEEKLY HEALTH REPORT.

Increase in Deaths Over Last Period-New Cases of Typhoid Fever.

The weekly report of the health department, submitted to the Commissioners by Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, health officer, today shows that the deaths occurring in the District of Columbia during the week ended on Saturday, June 18, 1904, were 111, which is 23 more than occurred last week and 8 less than occurred during the corresponding period of last year. Of these recent deaths 64 were among the white population and represent a death rate per 1,000 inhabitants of 15.9, and 47 were among the colored population and represent a death rate of 26.7 per 1,000. The death rate for the entire population was 19.2 per 1,000. These rates for the corresponding period of 1908 were 18.9, 28.4 and 21.8, respectively. The prevailing diseases responsible for this week's mortality were as follows: Consumption, 26; diseases of heart, 16; disease of kidneys, 13; diarrhocal diseases, 6; malignant growths, 5, and pneumonia, 4. There were 1 death by suicide, 1 homicide, and 6 accidental deaths. Diphtheria cases were increased by 1.
